SANYO introduces new 3-way line of ECO-i products

Wood Dale, IL, June 13, 2008— SANYO Commercial Solutions, a division of SANYO North America Corporation announces the new 3-way line of ECO-i products. The innovative 3-way series offers the ability to simultaneously heat and cool different zones. SANYO was the first manufacturer in the world to develop this energy saving heat recovery solution. Offering all the features of the 2-Way series, the 3-way solution offers even higher energy savings for the building owner through superior heating and cooling coupled with cost effective installation. Providing a single refrigerant pipe network means there's only one penetration into the building and ultimately less piping material required, saving time and money. The ECO-i 3-way series provides a smart conditioning solution for large capacity jobs that require simultaneous heating and cooling.

The 3-way outdoor heat recovery line includes the CHDZ series, models: CHDZ09053 and CHDZ14053 and the WCHDZ series, models: WCHDZ20053, WCHDZ26053 and WCHDZ32053. All models offer flexible combinations, inverter control compressors, and high energy efficiencies.

SANYO Commercial Solutions, HVAC division is now an ENERGY STAR Partner. ENERGY STAR qualified products and practices help save money and reduce greenhouse gas emissions by meeting strict energy efficiency guidelines set by the U.S. EPA and U.S. DOE. The ENERGY STAR label also designates superior energy performance in homes and buildings.
