Gary Nettinger Named New SANYO Vice President of Applied Products and Customer Support Groups

Wood Dale, IL, March 20, 2009—In a continuing effort to improve customer relationships, SANYO HVAC Solutions has made an organization change to better address and position the ECO-i product line in the marketplace. In addition to Service and Customer Service roles, Gary Nettinger has been assigned a new responsibility for ECO-i as Vice President of Applied Products Sales and Customer Support Groups. He will work closely with customers, sales associates, factory engineers and service members to bring the organization a larger customer centric focus. Gary has been a strong asset to SANYO for the past 3 years serving as the Vice President of the Service and Customer Support teams which he will continue to oversee. He has made great contributions to the organization, beginning the online webinar training program for the service department and has big plans in store for the upcoming year to improve accessibility and training for distributors, contractors, architects and the HVAC industry.
